Fuck it, Hostile takeover

This is it folks. It is the end of line for me. They are taking me to the backyard and placing one right between the eyes. But in earnest this is my last issue as editor. It has been a fun ride, but I am moving on from my undergrad and going into a career of being lost in a job market with a half useless degree and 30 years of debt strapped to my back. It was worth all of it though to write and lead the insanity that was The Koala. I am going to miss putting together and running around handing out this paper to each and every one of you degenerates each month. But I seem to have to say something here to really wrap up this entire tenure. Something that is revolutionary—no daring. Something that will just shock the masses. Oh, I know. No, I don't. hmmm. Oh, I know I am turning this paper into Succession after I leave.

So hear me out. I am going to pit three of my staffers against each other in an endless and fruitless bid to please and gain my favor to be in charge. But here is the twist: none of these fucks are getting it until I am dead on the floor. You heard me right. I rule this paper you fucks! I will run it into the ground before you get rid of me. Now I may only be halfway through season two of Succession, but so far it seems like the dad is a super cool guy. Like he forces people to do anything he wants, he runs Fox News, and he drove his son to relapsing on drugs for having the audacity to mention the fact he shouldn't be running the largest media empire on earth after having a brain hemorrhage.

This is so easy. I will bait Guava Goose into thinking they will get the throne as I continue to mentor Little Dybbuk but only be listening to the one that knows everything Sinus Baby. Nothing can go wrong with this plan, for me that is, this is for my fun. The rest of them will go crazy. Fuck it, what is a little bit of corporate sabotage amongst family. Because The Koala is a family. But family is mean to each other, and my third wife is a crazy power-hungry woman that will do anything to fuck over my children...urrr staffers. I will do this. Yeah, this is a good idea. Yeah. Nothing can possibly go wrong with this. I am going to go and kill our competitor, the UCSD Koala, by doing a hostile acquisition of their leadership and then burning it to the ground just to piss off some old fart that used to be there. Yeah, Succession this shit. Yeah, fuck the little guy. Fuck'em hard. CAPITALISM! Excuse me as I go insult some wage slave and make them cry and then my clean up guy will have them sign an NDA and give them an envelope of fuck off money.

I jest though. I loved my time here, and you may see my writing once in a while but besides that I shall be in the shadows. So, tata for now. Adervoura or whatever the fuck the French say.

With Love,

Handie Samberg

Not Exactly a Beach Party

Point Loma mansion, unlimited alcohol, sexy long-lost 3rd cousin - Thanksgiving at my Aunt Megan's was lit as fuck this year. Okay...it wasn't THAT lit, but my third cousin was really hot. HMU Travis.

The first hour was actually shitty and terrible. I got trapped in the endless swells of Thanksgiving small talk, answering the same questions on repeat: "How's school? What's your major? You still gay? Why are you still gay? Stop being gay you little bitch." Then, just when I thought all hope was lost, I rediscovered my aunt's stocked as FUCK garage fridge. I've grown tired of the stale, musty taste of Whiteclaws on my queer tongue. Luckily, Meg's way too bougie for that.. she only carries local SD Cutwater. By the way, did you know Cutwater Mai Tai's are 12.5%? Cuz I didn't and had three.

Needless to say, the rest of the night was incredible. I was so bonked out I even enjoyed the music consisting solely of ukulele covers of Queen songs. Bohemian Rhapsody slapped. The food was equally fuego--my favorite dish was some kinda cheese corn thing. It was yummy on the way in...but hurt like a bitch on the way out. Just the way I like it ;)

The international student party was the weirdest fucking thing I have ever been to in my life. Ever wonder what every cologne in a Macy's smelt like? Well this party reeked like all of them combined. The clothes that I wore that night are still rancid with the smell of all 80 different colognes from the counters. This group REALLY seems to care about how good their torsos smell BUT when it comes to dental hygiene, they throw that shit out the fucking window faster than I walk past the frat tents during rush week. I'm dead serious about this cologne thing though. I nearly passed out when I was hit with a smell only comparable to my chain smoking uncle Rob if he had his own Bath and Body Works collab.

Once I adjusted to this, the next shock to my senses was the language barrier. My 2 on the Spanish AP test proved correct as my zero bilingual skills were very apparent in the hour and 38 minutes I spent at this house. About 5 red solo cups deep of jungle juice, I was approached by a tall man speaking a mystery language. As he talks to me for about 8 minutes straight, I simply smile and nod so I don't have to admit that I have no fucking clue what he's saying. His last line however, piqued my interest as it was clearly a question. So, I, with zero thoughts in my brain, respond with a short and effective, "Sí". This, however, was a mistake. A big jumbo shit sized mistake. I knew this was a mistake the minute he responded by grabbing my head

And giving me the most pungent, earth shatteringly nasty kiss of my 18 years on this planet. And that is saying a LOT. This fucker must have freshly downed three pounds of literal shit, then washed it down with 9 week old bong water in order to create the rancid taste of his mouth.

As I pull myself away and run out the door, I quite literally hear the 2013 hit song "Happy" by Pharrell Williams begin to play. What kind of nightmare is this shit? In conclusion, if you ever receive a poorly written Whatapp text inviting you to an international party- be wary, very wary. Or at least don't be a dumbass like me and brush up on your high school language credit.

Anyone got any good vegan recipes?

Jewish American Pegger 11/29/21 (Mon) 7:08:56 No.60108495

>FUCK YOU. Why the fuck do you feel the need to shove your diet down the throats of unsuspecting people on the street?

>You aren't fucking better than anyone because you don't eat animal products. You're lucky you can even fucking afford to eat anything other than meat. Have you ever paused to think that your guilt tripping tactics make people who have less money feel like shit? Not everybody can afford to eat plant based, you idiot fuckwads. Certain cultures depend on hunting to live and connect with their culture. The only culture you have is making people feel fucking horrible about what they eat.

>You know we're omnivores, right? You looked at your fucking teeth lately? Those aren't some fucking flat plant grinding teeth. You got canine teeth? That's what I thought.

>If you claim it's for "health reasons" and then go to Plant Power three times a week, you're a fucking idiot cuck. Do you know what the fuck they put in those plant burgers? What makes that lump of shit taste like meat? There is so much random unhealthy shit in there you might as well dip your fingers in a vat of radioactive sludge and lick them clean.

>Don't tell me it's about the animals. Most of y'all are just vegan for the superiority complex alone. Don't compare animal rights to the goddamn genocides of people. Is our animal agriculture industry fucked up? Sure. But you shaming people into not eating shit if they can't afford it or telling Indigenous people they can't hunt on their native lands is just colonizer shit.

>You are all fucking narcissists. Get over yourself.

SDSU Exam Prep Fall 2021

Bathroom Review: Shower Edition

Recruit #69420-D

When reviewing a bathroom, there must always be an understanding of what the most standard restroom is, at least for a college student: the communal dorm bathroom. While the toilets, showers, and sinks are somehow all caked in a thin layer of hair, piss, and vomit, there remains a certain spirit. I, unfortunately, lost sight of what makes the dorm bathroom truly “communal”, and instead sought something else. It was a men’s bathroom I had been to before, in the basement level of the Drama Building. It was quiet, seldom used, and actually had showers. So it was there that I shat and showered, and it was that bathroom that has brought you this review today.

To the untrained eye, the restroom appears peaceful and solitary. The toilets are clean, the paper is soft, and lights turn on as soon as you enter, but things are not what they seem.

To any shit-takers who love to take their time, they will be horrified when the motion-activated lights go off. But guess what shitass, they can only be turned on again from outside the stall, so have fun wiping in the dark. However, none of this holds a candle to the experience of showering in the basement bathroom.

The three showers lie within the eye-line of any person that opens the door to the bathroom, giving any passer-by with wandering eyes a chance to see that somebody is fucking showering in the basement bathroom, which doesn’t even have warm water. No, the showers don’t have warm water. And while this wouldn’t be too awful on its own, the showers are tiny, the faucets only half work, and there are no shelves to put any toiletries on. It’s admittedly funny when you’re forced to bend over, avoiding the ice-cold water, nearly having your ass poke out of the shower curtain while grabbing your conditioner. However, it isn’t dignified, and it certainly isn’t enjoyable. To anybody that hasn’t had a cold shower, you always remember your first, so don’t do it in a bathroom that isn’t even yours.

Once the shower ends, you must then contend with grabbing your towel and clothes from the bathroom floor, as there are no shelves or towel racks. Unless of course, your experience is like mine, where I first had to wait for the person shitting to leave. Them seeing me would destroy any bit of dignity I have left. After that, however, you’re free.

The men’s bathroom in the Drama Building basement stands as the complete opposite of the rank and rancid, yet kind and caretaking communal dorm bathroom. It presents itself as being clean and friendly, yet beneath that facade lies a frighteningly cold and dark experience. So to any desperate freshmen wanting to escape their stinky and hairy dorm bathroom, just know that your other options fucking suck.

SHEIN: A DIFFERENT KIND OF PLAGUE

Recruit #2516-8==D

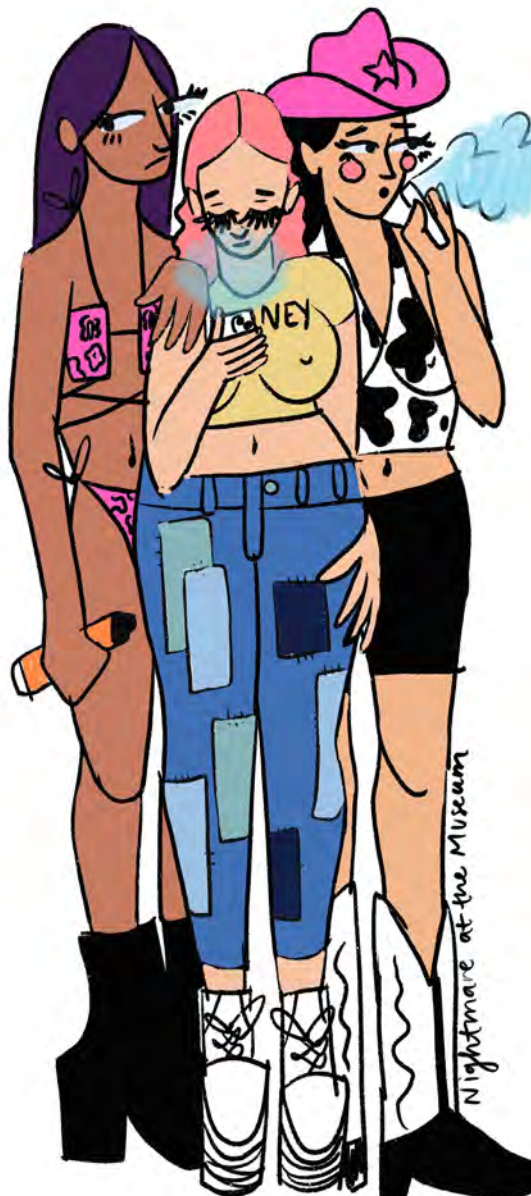

We all know that if there's one thing that makes life on the mortal coil of SDSU worth living, it is shein.com.. The immediacy and accessibility is both awesome and revolting, but undeniably unmatched. You're kind of forced to respect their multi billion dollar success in a market as saturated as an Alpha Phi instagram post. For instance, do you need 3 scraps of pink leopard print polyester before the beanies and bikinis party next weekend? Shein. Poorly fitting lingerie for your upcoming dick appointment? Shein. But I've come to understand one thing about life: sometimes there is nothing but the unquenchable yearning to consume dog shit quality products. Or Maybe you just get off on the idea of tiny child fingers bleeding at the foot of an industrial sewing machine, you sick fuck.

one walk down Montezuma on a Friday night, and you will find yourself in a sea of patchwork jeans, rhinestone "honey" baby tees and Jordan 1 Obsidians. This is undeniably the work of the corporate Shein monster, and not one of you fuckers bothered to look past page 5 of the "Camis and Tanks" section. For God's sake, that website burns a chunk of the Amazon rainforest everyday to provide you with a wide variety of clothing and you still all dress the same.

And that's the problem! There is nothing inherently wrong with scrap cloth but where the fuck is the originality? Do you really walk around in your pleather corset thinking you stand out among the throngs of other bitches wearing the exact same thing? I know that your heart just isn't in it when you put on that cow print bikini top and pink cowboy hat. You know that there's more to life than this.

Now that half of the girlies who stuck around this long are writhing in anger, I would like to agree with you. You're right. It's not that serious and you should wear what you like. You can still be a dope bitch in some zebra striped pants. That Pike guy you like is still going to fuck you. But make sure your heart is in it and it isn't coming from a place of mindless consumerism and a subconscious need to fit in. Especially when there's a fat chance that the crowd you are trying to fit in with aren't nearly as cool as you are. And try scrolling to page six next time you place that bulk order.

SDSU ALERT:

SDSU ALERT: Update: ALL 19 SDSU officers reported missing at scene. Major threat to campus. Please remain indoors until further notice.

SDSU ALERT: Update: Cum monster has grown to 15 TIMES its original size. Spotted near ENS building. SDSU ROTC are being rushed into tanks. Please remain calm and allow time for SDSU staff to handle this hiccup.

SDSU ALERT: Update: The ROTC students accidentally reversed the tanks into the cum which gave it the ability to unload massive cumshots at will. SDSU...we're fucked.

SDSU ALERT: Update: Fraternity row has been destroyed by a cumshot. All individuals present in the area have drowned in the masses of cum. Please avoid area.

SDSU ALERT: Update: The entire student body of Comm 103 Sec 2 has fallen prey to Cumzilla. Professor Rapp, the sole survivor of the slimy river of death, is hoping to communicate a sign of peace to the monster.

SDSU ALERT: Update: The cum monster seems to have taken the sign of peace as a sign of love...I'll spare you the details but let's just say Rapp's got moves ;)

SDSU ALERT: Final Update: Professor Rapp has successfully seduced the giant glob of cum and gotten it to sign a peace treaty with San Diego State. The sole condition is that the glob is allowed 4-year acceptance to the school with guaranteed membership in one of SDSU's prestigious fraternities. Live well Aztecs!

Crying and spitting and sweating and shitting

Man fuck zayne. That dude tried shoving a hot wheels up my ass

All you upperclassmen better watch your back, is 8th graders are coming out to play

Please adela I can't pay my tuition there must be another way. I'll do anything at koalaween i made out with a guy and he called me his little anime girl and tried to speak to me in japanese... i'm chinese 4th floor of south campus plaza south, SHUT THE FUCK UP. why is there thumping 24/7??? ik yall aint getting laid so whats the issue.

to the bitches i walked past on my way to class: how tf did y'all snort pre-workout instead of coke? it's rly survival of the fittest out here tf

All SDSU furs can't fuck, this dick is no good to the guy in my stats 119 class with velado, you're so fine please rail me:)

To the curly haired hottie who gendered me properly, complimented my fit, and gave me a shirt, I would def suck your dick please and thank you
