

THE MOTHERFUCKIN' KOOLA

Volume xxiii
Issue 4

~ Guava Goose

What was this Semester Again?

What the literal fuck is that feeling? It is freedom. Freedom from the shackles that have crippled me into submission this last year. That's right, I am fully vaccinated. No more sitting and talking to my walls for fun. I can talk to trees and watch people puke in yards. What an insane year it has been. I am happy to say that we here at The Koala are doing our best to be able and get back into fighting shape for next semester. That means fully published papers that we hand out in person again. By the bridge, the library, and wherever we can find you lovely readers. And if everything goes well, even a party. But what does this all mean? Fun. Just good old drunken fun. We are looking to have you guys get new looks into The Koala next semester and for us to get better looks at all of you. Come freshmen, come sophomores, come juniors, stay away seniors. We want all those lovely faces 6-inches away from ours.

As for other dumbshit going on I am just thinking of all the ways I can spit in people's mouths now that I am vaccinated. Or at least lick a few door knobs just to show dominance over the material world. Seriously, I think I understand how coma patients feel now. Just a whole new world I get to enter and learn. Maybe I will understand new things, find new experiences, enjoy time with other people....or I could get a couple dubs in Apex Legends and eat ramen for the third time this week. Either way I can do whatever I want now that old Rona ain't got nothing on me mother fuckers. I am a new man. I drink booze and blow clouds. That is what I am, that is my designation on my driver's license. This is all to say that I am safe and happy and will be seeing all your beautiful faces on campus next semester.

Until next time,

Dear Cole Hersch: SDSU Needs TittyPussy

Lil Dybukk

You may know Cole Hersch from his vine classic, "Who am I? Let's go to the beach beach! Ninki Minjaj". Or maybe you know him from his podcast, "Podcast but Outside". Or maybe you know him from his infamous mascot pitch to Saddleback College.

During a discussion regarding potential mascots, Cole shares his divine revelation: "her name is TittyPussy and she is a woke sloppy goblin girl who rides around the campus on sweat-stained roller skates and begs each student to come out as bi."

Yet, like the Roman soldiers to Christ, the Saddleback students and faculty jeered and mocked his vision. We have reached out to Cole to collaborate on a campaign to bring TittyPussy to SDSU, here's the email:

Dear Cole Hersch,

I am writing to you on behalf of "The Koala", San Diego State University's premiere newspaper. As you may have heard, our distasteful and pretty racist mascot the "SDSU Aztec" or as his friends call him, "Monty Montezuma" is getting murdered.

We saw your pitch to Saddleback College and thought TittyPussy was timeless and super sexy. Saddleback didn't get it but let me tell you SDSU fucking gets it and we need TittyPussy. She is the best way to emerge from our school's racist past, woke and triumphant. Maybe she couldn't replace the Saddleback Gaucho but she can replace the SDSU Aztec.

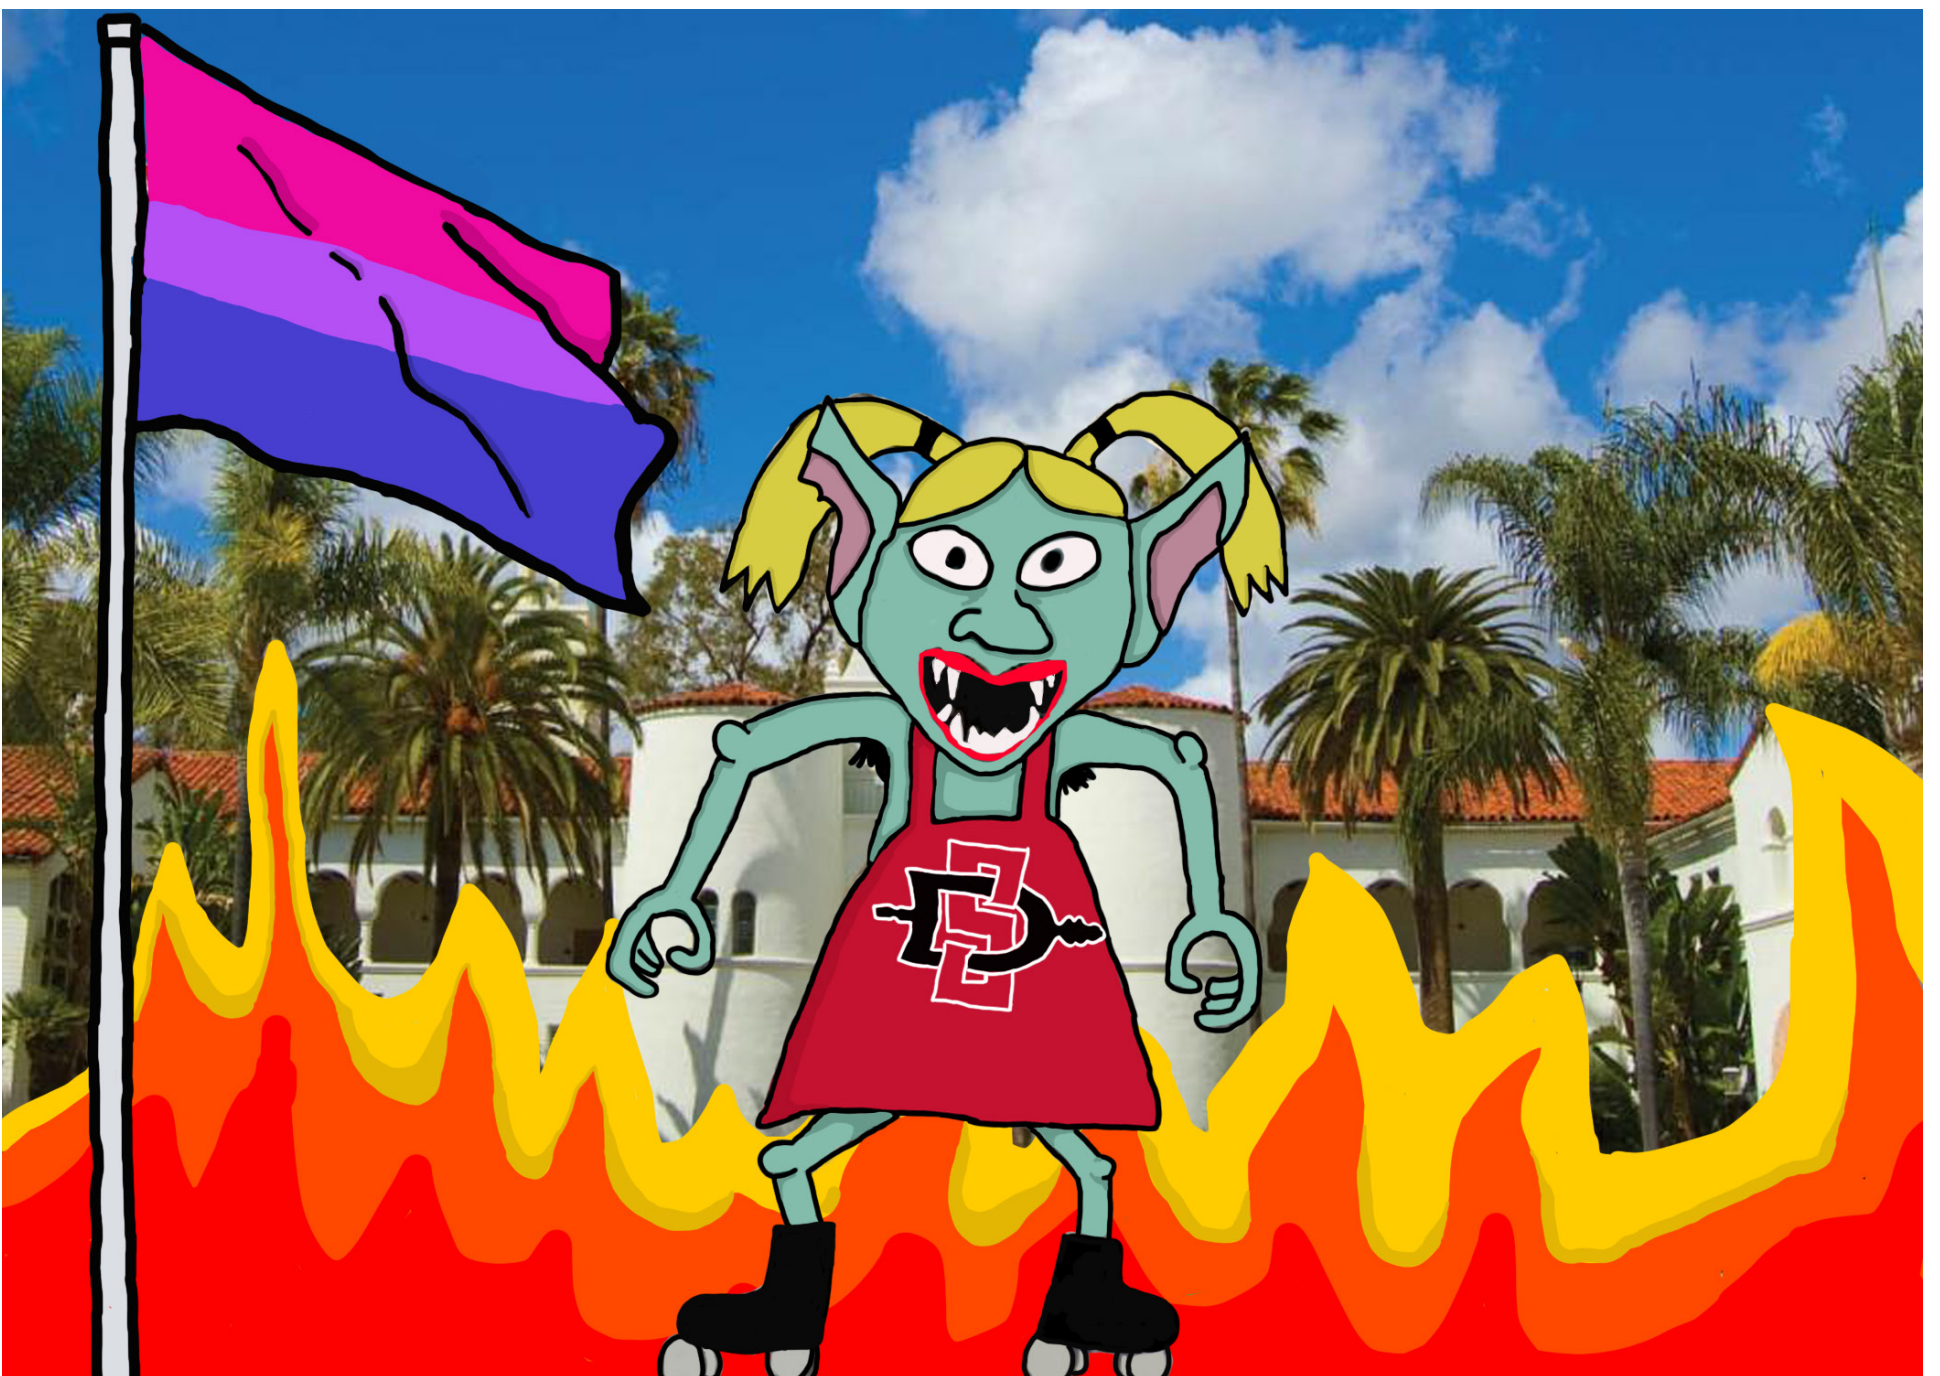

TittyPussy would improve the social climate of SDSU. The frats are fucking intolerable and misogynistic. Having strong, independent, woke, sloppy, bisexual, goblin girl representation would drastically change conditions for women on campus. We would finally be one step closer to establishing our dream of a misandrist, matriarchal, 100% goblin student government.

Below I have attached my concept art for our potential collaboration.

Thank you,

Little Dybukk

Probe Me

Buster Hymen

Quarantine has made me so fucking horny. All I can think about are beautiful, engorged, leaking dicks and vaginas. My isolation forced me to venture into the realm of porn after I couldn't schedule any more booty calls. I've stooped to some pretty low levels after watching all of the porn on my favorite sites like xHamster and Redtube. I even watched shitty camgirls on Twitch. I reminisce about the beautiful days of Tumblerporn. Tumblerporn was the best.

In my pent-up sexual frustration I ended up fucking myself in the ass with a hairbrush covered in lube and my cock in a cardboard toilet paper roll. Desperate times call for selfcare, I need a nasty daddy. This inanimate tube of cardboard was the most contact I had felt in months. It has been such sad, horny times.

I hope that aliens come to Earth this summer to join our wild ragers. With all the crazy shit happening, why not?

The more bodies, the merrier the orgies. Imagine a tall, beautiful, muscular green alien with dick fingers and a pussy for a mouth. I'd let that alien do anything to me... ANYTHING. Alabama hot pocket? Alaskan pipeline? Eiffel tower with another green space creature? I'm practically drooling over their slick, slimy, moist, extraterrestrial bodies. I'm already moist with precum anticipating their extraterrestrial probing. I'm lubed and await you, Master.

Getting probed by a dick-fingered alien sounds exponentially more fun than being stuck at home with my parents. I love them, but I just want someone to make me scream so loud the neighbors come knocking. I'm not sure how much longer I can go on. My horniness keeps building and I'm scared of what it will make me do to myself. I've got rope burn on my dick. Please don't ask how, it's embarrassing.

Who fell into the trap? What are they trying to sell? How did they find you?
