Hey, Welcome back to SDSU: The Koala Loves You

Hey shitbags, how's being back on campus? Good, maybe, yeah, oh something about your...ok I am bored of you. WELCOME BACK TO THE SHITSHOW EVERYONE! It is a new school year and it's full of crazy. What has it been, two weeks and the cops feel like they own all the college area? Sorry mister officer but if I want to drink on the roof of the art building and piss onto the freeway below that should be my right as a school-fee-paying student of SDSU. This first couple weeks have been crazy. No masks here, masks over there, half the classes being online, professors confused about what is supposed to be happening: It's a fucking shit show. But it is our shit show, a shit show we own. I am amazed to see that an entire school can care shit less about anything happening. That is just the norm for college life. And all you freshman better get used to it. This is the college life. The parties, the hot people, the ok food, and the Mother Fucking Koala. That is right the Mother Fucking Koala is your new norm. We are out here every month giving you lovely readers the most important news from campus: the personals. Just flip to the back of this and see what your fellow students think about campus life. Who is fucking, who is a fucker, and who should get fucked—all of that is there. This entire paper is dedicated to letting students know the best bathrooms on campus, some missed connections, and the best life advice we can muster. Expect us every month until your untimely departure for flunking out of all your classes. We are all back on this campus together and we are going to have to deal with each other, and that is the best thing ever. We are like that warm cookie that grandma leaves on the kitchen counter late at night for when you sneak into the kitchen for a late-night snack. The only difference is we care, care about making you laugh. So, please, join us for all our debauchery and shenanigans to come.

From the bottom of my drunken soul,

Coronavirus Bunker Bathroom 100.52/10

Coconut Head

If I'm not going to let some frat boy take me out, there's no fucking way I'm letting something called DeLTA take me out either. Thus the creation of my coronavirus bunker bathroom. Where no one can enter and no one really gets out alive (I accidentally made it vacuum sealed and let's be real one bad shit and you might as well be good as dead from the smell.) I've made it the perfect bathroom though, soundproof so no one can hear you absolutely tear up the toilet. perfect porcelain throne with the highest quality toilet paper for pleasurable wiping and everything you could ever need in a sink (aka running water & soap who the fuck do you think I am? Made of money? I'm a college student). You guys can call me a conspiracy theorist or whatever the young kids are saying nowadays, but I'm simply not surviving a year and a half pandemic to be taken out by the Apple Delta Dildo Covid-19 strain. I did not abandon my days as a frat star to go out like that. I didn't risk every STI under the sun and my mother calling me a whore to not even die in a respectful and honorable way.

Goddamit I'm scared of needles and I got stabbed but no one else did and this shit mutated. So yeah I fucking built my own bunker so that I wouldn't fucking die of some mutated shit show of a virus. What more do I need to say? This bathroom was fucking fantastic and you won't hear otherwise. Plus who else are you going to trust? No one is psychotic enough to waste their time writing shitty bathroom reviews for some stupid ass newspaper in college. Read the Koala bathroom reviews, take my word for it, and have the best bathroom experiences this year.

SDSU Exam Prep Fall 2021

TYPES OF PROFESSORS TEACHING AT SDSU

Brought to you by Mike, Walter and Sarah at A+ Review!

Celebrating the 1st Amendment!

THE NON-ENGLISH SPEAKING PROFESSOR:

Fresh off a boat from places like The Czech Republic, El Salvador, and even China... these professors are imported into SDSU to work for $2.75 a day so that the full-time professors can continue to make their $300,000. The fact that these professors speak no English at all does not matter. However, they ARE trained for weeks by SDSU linguists to say "Powerpoint slide" and "no questions".

THE CUTE PROFESSOR: the first ten rows of the classroom are always filled with girls without boyfriends who never seem to take notes. They just stare and flutter their eyes. By the end of the semester there usually ends up being two or three of the girls hanging around the professor's office with the door closed or can be seen with the prof at Bennigans or The Salty Dog after 10pm.

THE HYPNOTIZER: The professor that used to work as a part-time hypnotizer in Las Vegas now teaches at SDSU. He uses a combination of a perfectly monotone pitch and black & white small font Powerpoint slides to fully lull to sleep an entire 500 person class. Just before class is over, he snaps his fingers to wake everyone up.

THE STORYTELLER: although this professor starts the class with an important problem, by the third minute of class he is off on a wild story about when he was fighting a lion in Africa. The story usually finishes up a minute before the end of class only to have the professor instruct everyone to finish the important problem for homework.

My Girlfriend is Not a Lesbian

John MulBangMe

A public forum is a great place to set the record straight and speak your truth. It's a new year, we're back on campus, and the Delta variant still hasn't ruined everyone's Fall plans (yet.) With that all said, I would like to lay to rest the rumors and the chatter around myself and my loving girlfriend. Every single day I hear "John MulBangMe! I think your girlfriend's a lesbian!" Well, I can unequivocally say, once and for all: She's NOT a lesbian. Everyone always says she is but she's NOT. STOP SAYING IT.

Let's start with the facts. My girlfriend has NEVER had a girlfriend. EVER. But, she has had a boyfriend! Me! Has she ever been with anyone else? No! But that is besides the point. Boys have one point, girls have zero. Basic statistics tell us that she is 100% straight. There's a lot of really hot men out there she could date. Hell, I would probably date some of them. I can name, like, 10 off the top of my head right now. But she hasn't tapped ANY of that shit.

And why would she want to date anyone else when she has such a great boyfriend?! What other boyfriend would take his girlfriend plant shopping, or on a date to the botanical gardens, or Home Depot?? Who else would learn how to crochet with her? Or listen to all of her favorite artists, like Phoebe Bridgers, Clairo, Snail Mail, girl in red, Taylor Swift, SZA, and Lorde??? I frequently let her paint my nails and do my makeup. I took her to get her nipples AND her septum pierced! And what other boyfriend would agree to watch movies with her like Jennifer's Body, Portrait of a Lady on Fire, Booksmart, Little Women, Lady Bird, and Blue is the Warmest Color?

Sure, maybe she gets a little flustered around girls in overalls. Don't we all? I do the same thing when I see men wearing 5 inch inseam shorts or a low U-neck tank top. And yeah, sure, she is a bit into Megan Fox and Dakota Johnson. So what??? I frequently rewatch Black Panther just for Michael B. Jordan's shirtless scene, so what's so wrong with the fact that I don't hear from her for a few days whenever she rewatches Orange is the New Black?

And when the day becomes night, and she isn't sleeping over at her best friend's studio apartment, who does she turn to for company? ME! And let me tell you, a lesbian would NOT be as into me using her vibrator on her as she is. She'll even stay with me while I finish myself off. And that, dear readers, is love. I feel like I don't need to explain myself any more.

And before you say anything, the Jojo Siwa bow I found in her glove compartment is NOT a red flag. SHE'S AN INTERNATIONAL ICON. WHO WOULDN'T WANT TO SUPPORT HER BRAND?!

KoalaMD: A section where we tell you weird things about our bodies and maybe a nursing major will tell us what the fuck is wrong

#1: Taint Access Pipeline

John MulBangMe

I have a weird connection between my ear and my taint. Sometimes I get really itchy on the spot in between my nuts and my asshole, and EVERY TIME that happens my eardrum starts throbbing.

Maybe a nursing major: Listen, let me be real with you, this may be cancer. There is definitely some type of malignant tumor somewhere up in there--if you are lucky. Just start smoking a bunch of weed and it will go away or something.

#2: Belly Button String

Little Dybuk

Sometimes, I get this pain in my belly button that shoots down to my ~urethra area~. It hurts when I pee, or stretch, or finger my belly button. If someone asks me what's wrong I'm like "my belly button string too tight" and they usually leave me alone after that.

Maybe a nursing major: This sounds like capital-C Cancer. I know that sounds a bit extreme, but this sounds like there is cellular growth that should not be happening. Any time there is pain that goes between the bladder and the umbilical cord it usually means there is cancer. The best remedy for this is to just wait to die. It is probably stage 4 at this point so just call all family and friends and say your goodbyes.

#3: Orb's Body of Horrors

Orb

Whenever I get a sunburn, I get a bad fever, and then nightmares. Sometimes, I can crack my neck really easily. But then, sometimes that stops. I can do the same thing to my shoulder. Oh, my ball hairs are connected to my back. Whenever I shave them my back twinges in pain, and when I scratch my back, my balls start itching. My ears sometimes go through phases where they shed skin. I don't know why. It's not ear gunk stuff, it's just regular skin. Underneath its reddish and tender. Oh, also, whenever I move to a new area I have insane diarrhea for the first week or two.

Maybe a nursing major: All this skin stuff sounds like you possibly have a form of melanoma. Have you been outside in the sun a lot? The sun is a cruel mistress that shoots high levels of radioactive fire onto your skin as it slowly eats away at your cellular walls and curses you with strange marks on your body. This is just the kiss of cancer flowing through the largest organ of your body. This is an easy fix though. A few snips here and there and boom, no more cancer. You are a clear buddy.

#4: Bruised Banana

Pissboi

When I began puberty my body developed a minor case of Vitiligo and white spots started appearing in weird places on my body (knees, hips, back). As I got older the pigment began to return in a lot of the spots except one. To this day there is still a large white spot on my cock, the only one that didn't go away.

Maybe a nursing major: Yeah pissboi, kiss your chances of having kids goodbye. Don't think of having anything but weird soft headed babies. Because guess what magic and amazing medical issue you have.....that's right, cancer. Lots and lots of cancer. Just cancer all over that fat cock of yours. There is so much cancer in that dick I would be surprised if there is any real penis left.

AN ADVIL A DAY: A GUIDE TO MICRODOSING

CSHR#: SINUS BABY

1 The weight of everyday life was crushing, mentally taxing. I was trapped in a loveless relationship, working a job I hated, simply tired of doing the bare minimum to survive each day. The constant headaches that plagued me were the cherry on top of the shitty ice cream sundae that was my life. I think I've always subconsciously been looking for some sort of key to unlock the life I wanted to live, but coming across solutions proved difficult. I saw others seek solace with substances like alcohol, weed, Adderall, psychedelics, and more. I couldn't see how assaulting my body with such addictive substances could be beneficial in any way. One of my buddies told me about the amazing benefits of microdosing shrooms, raved about how much it had improved his relationship with life, and suggested I give it a try. I told him thanks, but I don't need any of that unnatural shit in my body. Plus, I'm no criminal - that shit's illegal. However, it got the gears turning in my head. I've always relied on Advil whenever a headache came on, so who's to say it couldn't improve other areas of my life if utilized like a recreational drug?

2 So my journey began - I started chopping up tiny bits of Advil to experiment with, $\frac{1}{4}$ an Advil every couple of hours whenever I needed a little pick me up. It was insane. Suddenly, I was laser-focused. I had a purpose. My headaches were completely gone, and I felt strong, like an eagle. I had stumbled upon something brilliant. I kept increasing my doses, going up to 1 Advil per hour. This unlocked so many benefits. I was simply excited to be alive again. My libido skyrocketed, I could fuck for hours. I became so efficient at my job that I got promoted within a week of my microdosing journey. I didn't need to eat as frequently, my body rejected half of the food I consumed. It's as if it were trying to tell me "Hey buddy, Advil is all you need." I was drinking more water than I ever have, because of how frequently I was popping Advil, and despite that, I soon hardly ever needed to pee. Life was going great.

3 Unfortunately, when you're feeling like you're at the top of the world, people just want to drag you back down. My partner begged me to stop what I was doing. They said I looked jaundiced, that my lack of urination was of concern, and I needed immediate help. Advil is a bigger help than my partner ever was, so I broke up with them on the spot and tossed them out of my house along with a bottle of Advil. "For you to loosen up a bit," I sneered, as I slammed the door shut on them, and that chapter of my life. Soon, work told me that my frequent Advil breaks were a form of time theft and fired me. Sucked for them, but a win for me. Now my schedule was far more open to experimenting with my favorite natural remedy. I worked my way up to 5 Advil per hour, and was feeling absolutely euphoric. I no longer felt the need to do everyday tasks, I simply didn't want to put any energy into anything but meditate and feel the Advil coursing through my veins. Popping it with water became too much work, so nowadays, I simply cut it into powder and sniff it through a straw. Every day I stumble across new abilities. From my perch on the couch, where I spend my days making Advil powder, I feel as if my eyesight has improved tenfold, much like a bird of prey. I can see all the way to my kitchen, where ants are carrying away rotten ramen noodles off of the floor, and out the door. It's a bit poetic. I tear up a bit as I think of how truly beautiful this life is. To think that before microdosing Advil I was a shell of a human, life weighing heavy on my shoulders. Now I soar high above it all, unchained by the burden of eating, peeing, or working. I simply cannot recommend this method enough.

Beginners Guide to Anal Sex

Jewish American Pegger

Have you been feeling an empty void in your life recently? Well, guess what! That's your asshole calling and it's begging you for attention. You may have thought that void in your soul would be best filled with drugs or alcohol, but really all you needed was something phallic shaped. Haven't you heard the saying, "The asshole is the window to the soul"?

Now, I understand that your chocolate starfish seems foreboding. Some of you may even be embarrassed about your shit button to the point where you cover it up with a Frozen™ bandaid so that it can't be viewed during my favorite position: doggy style. Butt (pun intended), you only need to unlock that treasure-trove of pleasure waiting for you on the other side of that sphincter. There are a couple of steps in this pleasure process, but luckily for you I am here to explain everything and give you the best tips and tricks.

First, you must be completely relaxed. Listen to some meditation videos from those white spirituality bitches to get yourself grounded. Choose the hottest spirituality bitch for a kickstart to the process. When you're so relaxed that you start thinking about giving up Xanax full-time, it is time to begin.

Slip on a latex glove (NOT a plastic food service one, don't even think about it). Pour enough lube on your fingers to rival that stupid ass coconut oil video (you know the one I'm talking about, freaks). Then, gently use your fingers to massage your stinker. Slowly insert a slippery finger, unlike Chet from Theta Apple Pie who spit on his beer-and-coke encrusted finger and shoved it into your poor unsuspecting asshole that night you did Adderall for the first time. We're taking this low and slow, baby.

When you are comfortable enough with one finger, add more. If you can get 3 of your slippery mates in your poop-deck, congrats! You can probably fit a phallic friend in there.

PRO TIPS: DO NOT let just anyone into your precious porta. It is meant to be coveted, a prize for only the top peckers (or straps) in the area. Find a respectable person who will treat you to Trujillos after destroying your orifice.

Speaking of Trujillos, DO NOT EAT MEXICAN FOOD OR ANY FOOD THAT WILL CAUSE YOU TO SHIT YOUR BRAINS OUT BEFORE ANAL PLAY. Butt stuff can be messy, yes, but you do not want to diarrhea all over your poor partner. Unless you're into that sort of thing. Hey, I'm not here to judge. Scat porn isn't my thing but I know some of our readers are into that shit (again, pun intended).

If you actually read this article all the way through, I'm going to assume you're either already utilizing your asshole to its maximum potential, or you're actually looking to try some new things. If you're the latter, please do more research than just this article. I am not responsible for any unwanted damages done to your favorite sphincter. I hope that this will encourage everyone to take the plunge into the cave of wonders.

Disney+ Announces New Jar Jar Binks Series

Little Dybbuk

Today, Disney+ has announced another Star Wars spin-off show. In an effort to redeem the Star Wars franchise's most hated and fucking disgusting character, Disney+ has decided to make some unexpected casting decisions. In this new show, Tom Cruise will star as Jar Jar Binks. Additionally, reports suggest that Selena Gomez will be playing Jar Jar Binks. James Corden, Kevin Hart, and Vin Diesel also are cast as Jar Jar binks. That's right, Disney+ is creating an all-Jar Jar Binks cast, including Ben Platt as gay Jar Jar Binks 2 and Mila Kunis as smelly Jar Jar Binks. New to the Star Wars universe, Tom Cruise is also the creator of the series. Cruise, who has taken up method acting for the role, now prefers to be called Jar Jar Binks. When contacted for a response, Jar Jar Binks (Tom Cruise) had this to say:

"Ever since 1999, me have so mui upset. People sayen 'Jar Jar disa' and 'Binks dat'. But daysa no know what daysa sayen. Me am tup tup and dat why me think daysa no liken mesa. Daysa actually liken mesa so mui dat daysa jealous. Daysa wanten more of mesa. If only dalee were more of mesa, methinks. Mebbe den wesa have enough Jar Jars to maken everyone smilin. Dat where me got disa idea."

While the show is slated to be released in 2022, everyone listed except Tom Cruise has denied any involvement with the project.

Tinder Gold and All its Glory Coconut Head

I was drinking (heavily) one night, as every 21-year-old does, and scrolling tinder which is a pretty normal pastime of mine. I scrolled past what may have been the prettiest human I have ever seen, but here's the problem: my drunk ass was going much too fast and swiped left. As any sane drunk human would do, I paid that motherfucking $10.99 and got tinder gold so I could backtrack and swipe right. With tinder gold comes the ability to change locations and swipe in any country you want. This is my plan to marry into citizenship in a country full of hot men and how you can do the same.

Step 1: Find a man worthy of being your husband.

I had 3 countries in mind, Australia, England, or Ireland. Australian accents make my dick hard, England is across the pond, and Ireland has some dank potatoes and even danker beer (choose whichever country you like). Now if you are also trying to get citizenship in another country and following my foolproof plan, I warn you, you must scroll through A LOT of men. You will get unsolicited dick pics, even from thousands of miles away. Stay strong soldier, you will find a man worthy of being your husband too.

Step 2: Get this man's Snapchat and seduce him into letting you visit, but make him pay for the entire trip.

This was the fun part of the journey. I had 3 men in 3 different countries by the end of this, willing and able to pay for my flights, my housing and my food. During this snapchat phase, convince him that he will see your titties when you inevitably visit him. Flirt your way into their heads (both heads, let's be real here) and flirt your way into their hearts. It works every time, trust me. This is the stage where you must be prepared for unsolicited wieners, and a whole lot of grotesque flirting, and I mean A LOT. Be bold, be you (okay maybe not really you, but like close enough right?). The grind must never stop.

Step 3: Have a shotgun Vegas wedding you never wanted and run.

Ah yes, so you may have to get drunk, have a vegas-esque wedding in another country and hang around for a while until you can eventually leave and divorce the motherfucker (after you get your citizenship of course). We all make sacrifices though, okay? This may just be a huge, life-changing sacrifice that could maybe, possibly, probably tarnish your reputation among him and a few of his homies, but it's fine, it happens. If you don't like the idea of a wedding, just get knocked up and then there is no way he will dip right? Maybe. He may need milk eventually.

ive got a kidney stone and it sucks ass. why did i drink so many yerbs

Bryce Hall vs. SAE was white on white crime, double homicide

I'm graduating a semester early, but I haven't told any of my friends. This seems like the only opportunity I'll ever really get to "vanish" from people's lives. No notes or calls, no goodbyes, just gone. And I'm going for it.

Great Society SDSU: 1. Convert Calpulli into a free 24/7 urgent care (we have the money, don't bullshit me). 2. Install better lighting for the walkways around campus (i.e on the way to VA) 3. Put ALL campus eateries on meal plan. 4. Install water stations on every floor of every residence hall. 5. Do away with the closing of dorms over Thanksgiving break. Anything else?

Bout to slide in her Facebook dm's after she posted in the housing group looking for a roommate. Girl you can stay at mines!

My boyfriend has not fucked me in months
